Greetings from Pitts Theology Library!

It goes without saying that the extensive and diverse collection at Pitts is due in part to the institution’s continuing conversation with Candler and Emory’s students, faculty, and staff. Our acquisitions should first and foremost support the present and future teaching, research, and service missions of the Candler School of Theology, as well as those of the Graduate Division of Religion and Emory University.

In consideration of the above, Pitts is expanding its reach about ongoing acquisitions and new resources by providing each tract with monthly reports via the New Acquisitions Newsletter.

Please find newly released resources in the Church and Ministry tract below, and don't hesitate to make purchase suggestions by visiting pitts.emory.edu/suggest.
Be Opened! The Catholic Church and Deaf Culture by Marlana Portolano (Catholic University of America Press)

Paying ample attention to the vocation stories of deaf priests and pastoral workers, Portolano traces the transformation of the Deaf Catholic community from passive recipients of mercy to an active language minority making contributions in today’s globally diverse church. Many challenges remain, but this book clearly presents Deaf Catholic culture as an

Eucharistic Communion and Rituals of Communion in Igbo Culture: an Integrative Study of Liturgy, Faith, and Culture by Mary-Reginald Ngozi Anibueze (Peter Lang)

An integrative study of liturgy, faith, and culture, establishes the theological and relational aspects of both the traditional rituals of communion in Igbo culture and the Christian understanding of Eucharistic communion, for a truly inculturated Eucharistic theology
The recent push toward innovation in churches has led to an acceleration of congregational life that strips the sacred out of time. Many congregations are simply unable to keep up, leading to burnout.
too fast, we feel alienated from the voice of a living God. Root calls congregations to reimagine what change is and how to live into this future, helping them move from relevance to resonance.
